STEEL STRIKERS ATTEMPT TO BURN HOUSES

(By Associated Press)
Youngstown, Ohio, Oct. 23.—One man was fatally wounded and another seriously injured when police broke up two alleged attempts at arson by striking steel workers early today. A group of striking Serbians and Italians held a secret meeting in their hall and decided, it is alleged, to burn the houses of several men who continued to work if their threats of violence were not heeded. Learning of the plan the police lay in wait for the strikers. Three Serbians, the police say, had set fire to one house before they were caught and a group of three Italians were surprised attempting to fire two houses. All are under arrest under various charges, including the carrying of concealed weapons and attempted larceny.

CONSPIRACY FOR A REVOLT IN ALSACE

(By Associated Press)
Strasbourg, Wis., Oct. 23.—A conspiracy for a revolution in Alsace-Lorraine having for its object the establishment of an autonomous republic here has assumed greater proportions than was first anticipated. Kaussler, the man alleged to be the arch conspirator, and who has been placed under arrest, has according to military authorities made a confession admitting that he has received 500,000 francs from Germany since last May. Literature seized at the home of Kaussler bore the caption "the neutral republic of Alsace-Lorraine" and called upon the population of the two provinces to separate from France as well as Germany.

MEMBERS ARE URGED TO CONTINUE WORK

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 23.—Out of the wreck of the International Industrial Conference, President Wilson today sought to build new machinery to bring about industrial peace in the country. In a message to Chairman Lane he asked that the public representatives in the conference continue their work and make a report to him. It is the hope of the President and other administration officials that the public delegates who were appointed by Mr. Wilson and who represent both employers and workers can formulate a program which will be acceptable to Capital and labor. He was said to have urged that the conference proceed these representatives of labor in a final effort to frame some program looking to the re-establishment of industrial conditions. The department of labor officials were said to favor the action on the part of the public representatives in the hope that a program that would be acceptable to labor. Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor in a formal statement today reiterated that unless the employers group in the conference agreed to the declaration with the workers without discrimination, and the right to organize it was worse than useless for labor representatives to continue deliberation.

NO REDUCTION IN PRICE OF BRITISH GOODS

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 23.—No reductions in prices of British woolsens is to be expected for at least two years according to a report at the Department of Commerce today. The woolen situation in England is more serious than it has been for years, says the report, and prices have advanced within the last month.

President of Mine Workers Says Union Would Consider No Offer of Settlement That Failed to Grant a Five Day Week

RESPONSIBLE TO MILLIONS OF WORKERS

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 23.—"We have withdrawn," said Mr. Gompers, "and that ends it as far as we are concerned. We are no jumping jacks. We are not only men responsible as citizens, but responsible to millions of workers. The representatives of the public group, largely employers, and people who have been antagonistic to the labor cause and labor movements, voted in favor of our declaration. Estimation has come to us that the employers group in their conference voted against the declaration are not of the intelligent fair-minded employers of the country."

80,000 MEN THROWN OUT OF EMPLOYMENT

(By Associated Press)
Lille, France, Oct. 23.—A general strike of 80,000 men employed in the building trade has been declared. High wages and better working conditions being demanded. Eighty thousand persons have been thrown out of employment by the walkout.

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 23.—The United Mine workers of America today formally rejected the proposal by Secretary Wilson for the settlement of the coal strike called for November 1st. John L. Lewis, President of the Miners' Organization, announced that the proposal was incomplete and inadequate and failed to meet the situation. He added that he would so report to the joint conference this afternoon.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Secretary Wilson's proposal for settlement of the coal strike will be rejected by the miners, officials of the United Mine Workers of America announced today on their way to a meeting called to formulate an answer. This was taken to mean that the joint conference with the employers this afternoon would end abruptly unless the secretary was prepared to submit a new proposition. John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, reiterated that the union would consider no offer of settlement that failed to grant the demand of the miners for a five day week.

EVIDENCE INSUFFICIENT TO CONVICT

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 23.—Robert Minor, American newspaper cartoonist, who was detained by American military authorities in France on charges of being connected with the plans of German Spies to circulate Bolshevik literature among American troops, was released because of insufficient evidence to warrant his trial. The senate was informed today by Secretary Baker. While recommending the release, the judge advocate of the American Expeditionary Forces, Mr. Baker said, expressed the opinion that Minor was guilty. Since the release of the cartoonist, the secretary added, evidence has been obtained connecting him with the preparation of 6000 pamphlets which were to be circulated among American troops. Minor acted, he said, at the request of a German Spieshead leader.

COMMITTEE ADOPTS TEN RESERVATIONS

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 22.—The Senate today adopted ten reservations to the the Senate qualifications must be accepted treaty, and also provided that Foreign Relations committee adopted accepted by at least three of the great powers before the ratification could become effective. Among them was a proposal which administration leaders will break down the economic boycotts of the covenant and a revulsion of article ten, with the changing of that one phrase which President Wilson declared that he would consider as a rejection of the treaty. The reservations are apart of the list which Senator Lodge said were the compromise behind which the majority of the Senate stand firm. The Democrats tried in vain to modify the reservations and failing voted against them. The subjects are withdrawal from the league, Article Ten, rights of congress, national supremacy on domestic questions, right of congress to authorize mandamus, Munroe doctrine, Shantung, limitations on reparations, the power of congress to determine contributions for the league expense, the right to increase armament and right to continue trade with a league breaking nation.

FIVE MINUTES TO BE LIMIT ON PARTY LINES

Telephone Users Must Be Brief When Others Wish to Talk.

Conversations over the telephone are hereafter to be limited to five minutes on party lines provided others may wish to use the line and overtime calls are to be given the right of way.

The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company has issued the following to its subscribers:

"Satisfactory service on party lines depends very largely upon the willingness of the joint users to cooperate with one another on their demand on the service. The company, therefore, after conference with the public service commission, respectfully requests party line subscribers to limit their conversation to five minutes when others wish to use the line, and to give immediate right of way in case of emergency calls."

England.

This same authority went on to say that the old-time "baking day" is not nearly so great an institution as formerly. In those days a woman spent a greater part of her time in the kitchen. She was the center of greater significance to the family of a piece than to the social duties which play so important a part in the life of the modern woman.

Nowadays, however, and thanks to a nation-wide plan of selling even fresh products of all kinds, the sands of housewives are no longer from many an old-time kitchen thereby finding their way to the

SEEK AID AGAINST PESTS

Khar'kov, Southern Russia, Oct. 22.—
Medical officers of Dentin's Volunteer Army have appealed to the American Red Cross to aid them in their fight against the swarms of flies that infest the country in general, and the field hospitals in particular, like a pest.
The army is without insecticides and has no screening material.
Reports received in this city from Red Cross doctors engaged in a medical survey of the Kremenchuk region describe this whole area as swarming with flies, crows and other birds of corruption. The pests have been attracted by the large masses of decaying matter that have accumulated in the areas recently vacated by the Red armies.

DEER ARE PLENTIFUL IN THIS SECTION

Exeter, Oct. 23.—As the open season on deer is 15 days longer than usual, lasting from Nov. 15 to Dec. 15, Rockingham county hunters are anticipating larger rewards than usual.
Deer have been seen in plenty in many sections of the county, but the self-hunting dogs are making them timid. A case was reported recently where dogs chased a large buck from the succulent "Oaklands" across the Swansea river. The animal crossed the road between here in Newfields in the town, and was seen to plunge into the river and swim across.
A few minutes later the baying of the hounds was heard, and two dogs close on the animal's tracks followed in his wake, but they did not cross the river, and gave up the chase at the banks.
Herds of them have also been seen in the pastures and woodlands.

DELEGATES WITHDRAW FROM CONFERENCE

(By Associated Press)

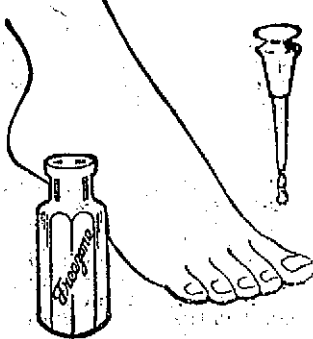

Washington, Oct. 22.—Organized Labor tonight thru their leaders Samuel Gompers the president of the A. F. of L., withdrew from the National Industrial Conference. Mr. Thomas A. Chadbourne of the Public group announced that the Public group would remain in session and report direct to the President.

Mr. Gompers thanked the chairman and the public group for their good feeling toward labor but said the right to collective bargaining had three times been defeated, once after President Wilson had appealed the conference to remain in session, labor believes it has no object in continuing the deliberation.

His announcement followed the action late today when the Conference vote down the labor resolution for the rights of collective bargaining, a resolution which Mr. Gompers said was the last word.

The Famous La Touraine Bag

Selected, Blended, Roasted according to the La Touraine Formula

Selection

Variation is a law of nature.

Here are two Baldwin apple trees in the same orchard. The fruit of one tastes and is different from that of the other, although they are both Baldwins.

The same is true of coffee. There are not only many kinds of coffee, but there are many types of many kinds.

Thousands of our customers wonder why La Touraine Coffee never varies in goodness; why the quality has always the same rich, full flavor, the same coffee satisfaction hidden in every cup of it.

It is because La Touraine Coffee is selected coffee. It is made from selected beans of particular types of coffee grown on certain plantations noted for the quality of the coffee beans they grow.

This requires a coffee skill, so intuitive in operation that years of experience and a vast knowledge of coffee lore are the necessary qualifications for the selection of the correct beans that will meet the standard required by the La Touraine formula.

To have coffee goodness upon your table, ask your grocer specifically for La Touraine, the Perfect Coffee — then you are assured of coffee satisfaction.

favorable, there was little likelihood, according to Capt. Taylor, that the ship would be hoisted before night. The fog which enveloped the ship shortly after she grounded at 8 last night had lifted today and there was a light north-west wind.

The Mayport is but little damaged as yet, and is not leaking, according to Capt. Taylor. She lies in a dangerous location, however, and a heavy east or southeast wind is liable to drive her still farther on the sand bar.

The Mayport carries a crew of 39. She is one of the United States shipping board's light freighters, registering only about 2500 tons.

The vessel went ashore just as a fog bank settled down over the Sound, according to Capt. H. M. Ellis of the Monty Point coastguard station.

MAZOLA

How to Make Perfect Pie Crust

MANY cooks could never make perfect pie crust until they used Mazola. Here is a Pie Crust recipe that will convince you of the wonders of Mazola. And remember, too, that pie crust made with Mazola is easily digested.

Follow this recipe—you can get Mazola at your grocer's.

2 cups Flour 1/2 cup of Mazola Pinch of Salt Ice Cold Water
Work Mazola well into the flour and salt, add enough ice water to hold together, about one-fourth of a cup; roll crust out at once.

Must Face the Issue.

While the average citizen cannot believe that this country is in danger of Bolshevism in the commonly accepted sense of that term, it becomes more and more apparent that existing conditions are fraught with danger. What is called "social unrest" shows no signs of subsiding, and what will happen if it continues for any considerable length of time is impossible to tell and unpleasant to contemplate.

Secretary of State Lansing in an address at Albany a few days ago pointed out some of the dangers of what he termed "class imperialism." He said the rights of particular classes over other classes are being preached and that appeals to selfishness, envy and ignorance are being sent broadcast throughout the land. Most radical propositions are being advanced, which aim to grant special privileges to certain groups of citizens and to deprive others of those private rights which are inseparable from the American conception of individual liberty.

Mr. Lansing went on to say that "Democracy is in danger from within rather than from without the body politic," and that Americans are again called upon to defend the principles which are being attacked; and he declared that these attacks must be met with the same unyielding and courageous spirit as that with which our soldiers met the Germans on the soil of France.

But while it is clear to all that conditions are perplexing, and perhaps even menacing, there is no just ground for discouragement or for losing faith in the country's future. The waves of discontent, like the waves of the sea after a storm, are rolling high, but the foundations of American freedom will not be moved. These were laid deep and strong and will be found in place after the upheaval has subsided. There may be wrecks of individual and class interests—it will be strange if there are not—but American freedom and democracy will remain.

In the meantime the trials at hand must be met and faced without flinching and without compromise with radical and recognized wrong. In the view of Secretary Lansing such compromising in the past is to a considerable extent responsible for the troubles of the present. He decries the disposition to compromise the principle of equal rights with the demand of special rights; an apparent willingness to conciliate by concessions in order to allay for the time being those evil conditions which threaten to result from the denial of class privilege; a timidity in meeting the issue squarely, and last, but by no means least, "the tendency of many leaders of political thought to temporize with and placate certain elements in our population by accepting in a measure undemocratic principles which plainly violate the essential principle of the American political system."

It behooves the thinking men of the country to weigh these words. The fight for and against class privilege is on, and it is one that must be squarely faced by all friends of political and industrial liberty if the country will prevail and that the present trying situation will yield to reason and soon pass into the realm of unpleasant memories.

The federal government has provided severe penalties for the transportation in interstate or foreign commerce of motor vehicles known to have been stolen. The stealing of automobiles has assumed large proportions and it is high time that steps should be taken to bring the nefarious practice to a halt.

Representative Aswell of Louisiana thinks the investigating committees of Congress should themselves be investigated. If such a course were to be adopted it would bring the investigating business about as near to perpetual motion as anything in this world will ever come.

In view of the conditions that have prevailed since prohibition went into effect it is not strange that an important liquor case was conspicuous on the docket of the Superior Court, which opened its session in Portsmouth this week.

The students of Syracuse University struck the other day because they were not given time off to celebrate a football victory. Thus is "progress" forcing its way even into the educational institutions of the country.

And not all of the deer lugged out of the Maine woods went to Boston. There were a few Portsmouth hunters "also present," and they did not come home empty handed.

A Pennsylvania hermit predicts a mild winter. Did he become a hermit by crawling into his hole to dodge the "mild winters" he has predicted in the past?

Some of the New Hampshire peaks have already been whitened with snow. The rigors of a New England winter are not far distant.

It is pleasant to read about drops in food prices, but it would be pleasanter to experience them.

NAVAL VESSELS CRIPPLED BY LACK OF MEN

Washington, Oct. 23.—The United States navy is being crippled today by just one battle ship, the 20,000-ton North Dakota, built in 1910, Captain Thomas J. Scan, commanding, headquarters Quantico, Va. Captain Scan's vessel is the only warship that is prepared to give battle to an enemy fleet, should one present itself off the American coast.

With the North Dakota he could put to sea at full speed of 21 knots an hour, and he has in service every one of his ten 12-inch guns and all 14 of the 5-inch guns, so that he could fire on the enemy as long as the ammunition lasted.

All the other battleships and cruisers and most of the destroyers and other smaller craft of the Atlantic fleet are tied up in ports and navy yards unfit for active service largely for want of men to man them.

At the Philadelphia navy yard lie the Connecticut, Louisiana, New Hampshire, Kansas, Minnesota, Michigan and Nevada. At Boston are the two oldest battleships, the Oregon and the Florida of the Atlantic fleet and the Virginia and New Jersey of the Pacific fleet. At the Norfolk yard are the battleships South Carolina and Oklahoma and at Brooklyn the Pennsylvania, Arizona and Delaware are lying.

The Pacific fleet struggled through the canal and finally got United States Navy Secretary Daniels to Hawaii but as soon as it returned to the home ports it was put partly out of commission on account of the shortage of men. At the Mare Island navy yard are the battleships Rhode Island, Georgia, Nebraska and Vermont, and at San Pedro, the Idaho and the Mississippi are tied up. The New Mexico is at San Francisco and at Bremerton yard are the Wyoming, Arkansas, the Texas and New York.

The plight of the navy with its single battleship, the North Dakota, ready to put to sea with a full complement of 10,000 men, was disclosed by Admiral Wilson. When the attention of Secretary Daniels was called to the revelation of the admiral, he admitted their substantial correctness but declared that some of the ships could be put to sea with a complement of 800 men "though of course they could not be able to fire the guns on both sides." The full crew of a first class battleship is 11,000 men.

The navy is just about 50,000 short of the strength it should have in order to man the vessels in commission and it is 37,000 short of the permanent strength authorized by congress. Of course, things are not as bad as they were at the beginning of the war, when there were only 59,000 men in the navy. At the signing of the armistice there were 145,000 officers and men; on October 1, there were but 114,000 officers and men. However, as the result of the intensive recruiting campaign that has been in progress for several months, about 1500 new men are being enlisted each week. Secretary Daniels hopes that if this rate is maintained there will be a full crew of peace time strength for all commissioned vessels in the navy by next spring.

The present plight of the navy is due largely to the tremendous exodus from the ranks of officers and men immediately following the war. The exodus would have been much greater if the secretary of the navy had not made an iron-and rule that officers who had received their training at Annapolis would not be permitted to resign. Many of them sent in their resignations but they were not accepted.

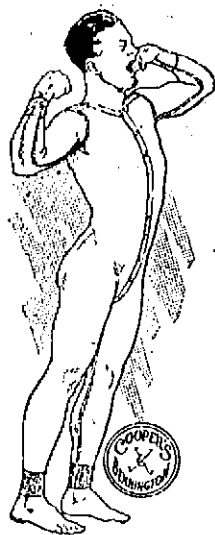

But, the war service men were all let go, although the secretary could have held them until the formal declaration of peace had been signed. After the armistice was signed Secretary Daniels did not withstand the clamor of the volunteers to be released for a few weeks, but when the pressing began to be extended indefinitely as well as from the families of the men, he gave in and wholesale discharges ensued.

Officers of the navy protested at the time and declared that if 800,000 men were to be discharged the navy would virtually be put out of commission, and in the troubled state of the entire world, this seemed to them a dangerous proceeding.

Secretary Daniels, however, overruled them, and is said to have remarked that if he refused to release the volunteers "there will be revolution in this country." The secretary also declared that 50 per cent of the navy vessels would have to be overhauled and that while they were undergoing necessary repairs, it would be a good time to recruit and train new crews instead of maintaining full crews while the ships were in drydock or being refitted at the navy yards.

"And besides," said Secretary Daniels "don't forget that we have a trained reserve of 350,000 men and I could call every one of them back to his ship within a week."

Congress is now considering raising

POLICE COURT

The municipal court gave nearly the whole morning session today to hearing assault cases, with one case of larceny on the side.

Patrolman Dennis Kelley landed on the corner of Washington and Court street on Wednesday night just in time to catch Peter Morris and Eugene Reed snatching it up. Morris had a knife and Reed was ready to defend himself with a big window weight. They had been scuffling over a woman. Today in court Judge Cupitt read the riot act to Morris and imposed a fine totaling $27.02. Reed got away with $12.02. Fighting with knives costs more than it does with window weights.

Peter Carls faced the court for the second time this week. He was mixed up in a gambling fest on Market street, Sunday night in a lodging house restaurant and he liked the place so much he went back yesterday and annoyed himself to a suit of clothes valued at $52, which the owner, James Pappas, had never worn. Peter did not del up in the clothes but anchored them in a tailor shop for some spending money. He was held for the January term of superior court, and not having bail to the amount of $200, went to jail.

Another assault case brought to the attention of the court from Atlantic Heights was disposed of by discharging both parties who had sworn out counter warrants.

HAVE YOU EVER?

Really have you ever felt deep pity for one who really pulls a good job and at the same time is trying to fool the dear people?

Well, our old friend Bogotist bartender Mahoney, citizen friend of the big "G" etc., etc. Really it was a scream—that burglar story about some one finding a piece of news in his bulletin. The local burglars are some clever but if they can crack a news item (excepting of course those exclusive interviews) we will give him a ticket to New York where he can have a wider field. Our office devil who said that he once found the headline of the Morning Chronicle on State Street one day. Really that was all there was left when Mr. "Cissone" finished. Our hat is off to the "joker." He is certainly doing some clever "fooling."

Some time when we have the room we would really like to say a few words.

ENFORCEMENT BILL TO BE CONSIDERED

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Oct. 23.—Unless President Wilson's executive activity of yesterday showed ill effects upon the present, the prohibition enforcement bill with the Department of Justice opinion on its constitutionality was to be laid before him some today. The President is known taking under his enforced inactivity from participation in governmental affairs and although he has until midnight of Oct. 28 before the bill becomes a law without his signature, the physicians may again lower the bars and permit him to consider the measure. Rear Admiral Grayson, the President's personal physician, made plain that the increased activity of the President was not indicative of any decided improvement in his condition. He expressed the opinion also that withholding important questions from him probably would be more harmful than allowing him to consider them.

REV. MR. CASWELL WITHDRAWS RESIGNATION

Because of the strenuous protest put up by the Christian Church and parish in opposition to his resignation, Rev. Percy Warren Caswell, pastor of the Church Street Christian church, has decided to withdraw his resignation for the present. The pastor had been asked to resign his resignation and he planned to give his answer at the Wednesday evening prayer meeting. That he decided to remain is most pleasing to his parish and he hopes with renewed interest and enthusiasm and the hearty co-operation of the parishioners the work will go on with even greater zeal and the efforts of the Christian society at Atlantic Heights become a prosperous work.

Rev. Mr. Caswell had a unanimous call on Wednesday to become pastor of the Community Christian church of Manchester, this state, where he conducted the services last Sunday. The pastor of the Manchester church, Rev. Mr. Baldwin, resigned in July, leaving that denomination to join the New Hampshire Congregational Association. Since then the church has had supply pastors and it offers a fine opportunity. It is certainly was complimentary to the ability of Rev. Mr. Caswell to receive a call from that church but it is pleasing to the community to know he will remain.

PORTSMOUTH THEATRE
After seeing "Experiences," the modern monthly play which E. Day Comstock and Morde Gost will present at the Portsmouth Theatre tonight, Gertrude Baran, the famous Alhambra prima donna, said: "Experiences" thrilled me. It held me a prisoner, captive to my emotions, unwilling to escape if I could, enthralled at what I saw, enraptured at the unfolding of life's story in this series of scenes and events.

GRAND JURY RETURNS INDICTMENTS

The Duffy-Mullane-Healey Case Gets Into Court Thru Indictment of Duffy and Miss Healey--Fifty Two Indictments

The Grand Jury which has been considering cases presented by County Solicitor W. H. Sleeper, reported at 4:30 on Wednesday afternoon, fifty-two indictments of which thirty-two were made public. Many of the indictments not made public were arising out of the strike at Raymond, which resulted in more or less clothing.

Among the indictments are two against William J. Duffy of the Naval Prison and Helen Healey of this city for statutory offenses. This is the already famous case of Duffy's which originated in his marriage to Julia Mullane in Kittery, which Duffy afterwards repudiated claiming undue influence. This case is now before the York County court on a petition to have the marriage annulled. Subsequently Duffy was arrested in this city where he was charged with living with Helen Healey, who was a former geologist at the navy yard. In the local court he claimed that he and Miss Healey had been married in New York, although the marriage at Kittery had not been annulled nor had he received a divorce. No attempt was made to charge him with bigamy. This brings this case into the Superior court, and at the same time it is pending in the York court.

Two other indictments for larceny of automobiles against Kenneth Marston and John Marston, both of Hampton, are expected to clear up the theft of many Buick automobiles.

The following are the list of indictments:
Gladson S. Dodge, Boston, False pretenses.
Walter Moody, Portsmouth, Breaking and entering and larceny.

John Robinson Exeter, Arson.
Milton Buchanan, Portsmouth, Breaking and entering and larceny.

Joseph J. Conner, Portsmouth, Concealing stolen goods.

Walter R. Caswell, Portsmouth, False pretenses.

Helen M. Healey, Portsmouth, Adultery.

William J. Duffy, Portsmouth, Adultery.

George Carrier, Epping, Breaking and entering and larceny.

John Doe LeBlanc, Auburn, Disorderly house.

Chara Wood, Portsmouth, Adultery.

Henry M. Ash, Portsmouth, Adultery.

Marylin J. Pease, Hollisford, Larceny of will.

Perley B. Lemos, Raymond, Disorderly.

Ivring B. Yattaw, Portsmouth, Assault.

Albert C. Vonderheide, Portsmouth, Counterfeiting.

William Newton, Portsmouth, Counterfeiting.

D. A. Brooks, Portsmouth, Counterfeiting.

Raymond Archamho, Portsmouth, Larceny.

Kenneth Marston, Hampton, Larceny.

John Marston, Hampton, Larceny.

Leonardo Lartenda, Portsmouth, Assault.

Clifford Sarksedan, Salem, Larceny.

James Doherty, Portsmouth, Larceny.

George M. Smart, Raymond, Desertion.

WENDELL'S BOOKS
BRING $18,698

A total of $18,698.50 had been realized from the sale of the library of the late Wendell J. Wendell, Harvard Alumnus when the first ten sessions of the sale were complete, closing out the library in connection with the latter, the University of Chicago library was a heavy buyer.

Up to that point, nearly 120 items on the list had brought $25 or more and purchase prices often were in the neighborhood of $50 and sometimes went into three figures. One item brought $400, another $310, a third $250, etc.

Mr. Wendell died in an American hospital at Neuilly, France, Aug. 27, 1917. He was a brother of Professor Barrett Wendell and in his younger days passed many summer seasons in Portsmouth where he presented and took part in many plays.

His collection was native and was made up of dramatic material, prints, letters, plays and historical books.

"THE SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS"

Harold Bell Wright at the head of the Harold Bell Wright Story-Picture Corporation, Dismery W. Reynolds, president will dramatize the most popular of the works from his pen.

The first book to be shown to the public in pictures will be "The Shepherd of the Hills," and a more suitable choice could not be made.

While "The Shepherd of the Hills" may not be the greatest work from a literary standpoint, it is thought to be the "best beloved" of Mr. Wright's stories.

The characters from "Frenzies" will down to little "Pete" have found numberless friends in all living languages. A story so rich in symbolism that it approaches the allegorical, yet so lucid and real that it may be said to have attained the grandeur of simplicity.

Mr. Wright is a man with a mission and a message. A great story-teller, a creative imaginative genius.

The countless possibilities of the motion picture camera, will enable him to bring his great world pictures to his millions of readers with renewed interest. To this end let us be grateful as never before for the motion picture camera. The work of Mr. Wright and his associates are more than welcome. Their premiere production will be in ten reels with incidental music forming an evening's entertainment. Portsmouth Theatre, Monday, Oct. 27.

INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT AT HAMPTON

The family of Mr. Charles F. Shillaber of Summer street, had a narrow escape from serious injury in an automobile accident at Hampton on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Shillaber with his wife and daughter and her two children were riding thru Hampton in their closed car, when a roadster owned and driven by Dr. Green of Worcester crashed into their machine.

Dr. Green evidently became confused and his car struck the Shillaber car with great force turning it over and shattering the glass in the windows. Mrs. Shillaber was bruised and cut by glass, and the other occupants escaped with minor bruises and shaking up. The car was badly damaged.

DOVER SHOE FIRM GETS LARGE ORDER

Dover, Oct. 23.—Manager W. S. Plazer of the Farmington Shoe company has received an order for 35,000 dozen pairs of shoes, this order to be completed before July 1, 1920. The Farmington Shoe company will employ much more help and plans will be made to use two different crews. It will mean a big boost to the shoe workers of Dover and it means that the Dover workers will be operating at full time this coming winter.

The Herald contains all of the important foreign and local news.
